

Wednesday 23rd November 2022

Learning challenge: To write with purpose in context of a report.

Success criteria: I can include:

	Pupil	Teacher
subordinate clauses which are punctuated accurately.
parenthesis use.		✓
detailed and cohesive paragraphs.		✓
punctuated accurately.		✓

A visit to the Centre - of -life museum

On ~~my~~ Monday 21st of November 2022 (at Newcastle) ~~ce~~

On Monday 21st November 2022, class 5 and six visited the Centre of life museum (Newcastle). We also had a the time to ice-skate! Well some. There was also a gift shop! ✓

Firstly, we had all arrived (with some parental help) and all very soon most of us were on it! It was pretty big so all of us could fit on it, we all (well most) put our boots on and "gracefully" skated on the ice. I didn't stay on for long because it was freezing. But I was super proud of my class mates for doing it. Some of them were skating in the middle.

Once we done our finished ice-skating, we re-entered the museum. We travelled over to the Brain-Zone!

In the ^B Brain ^Z zone there was a real brain (there was a machine attached to it see what it would get attached to your or more) or we could drink out of a toilet although it sounds weird its not... well kind of. This may have been designed to show how we are ^{psychologically} psychologically affected by what we see. I mean most of us wouldn't dare drink out of a toilet, I didn't either, but it was perfectly fine to do so. Lots of us (or not too many) drank out of it that because my fellow classmates are brave! Now enough about toilets, its a bit disgusting, why don't we talk about other stuff? Like a trolley cart or the teleph-one game that doesn't work you have to pay for. ✓

Well after being in Brain Zone for a "little" time we travelled over to ~~Space~~ Space Zone where you could build your own rocket (out of foam) or there were screens with headphones attached where you could learn about how to go to the gym, how to cry, the drops don't fall, how to brush your teeth and more. There was even a round (fake) Earth where a show played about showing round the Earth. Addition to that, there was this microscope and if you looked through it, you could see ~~inside~~ ^C inside the ^{Moon} Earth, I think. After, we ventured over to the ~~creativity~~ ^C Moon Zone where there was some music discs!