

How they work is you pick a song and then you put the discs on then press a button. Now music should have been playing. Or you could take photos with hats on in a "photobooth". There was also a table with spinning discs on it! (also with objects to put on it! Or with "hello world" you could write & what questions you could ask aliens or hang your work up of your Earths! There was also a reading area!

P After playing in Hello World for a little we headed over to the Movie Theater where she a worker told us stories about the Fire Fox or Fire Flys! She even showed us how a Plasma Ball worked, and how to make fire change colours with copper as well as Sodium!

The Movie theater was my favourite part, especially with the plasma ball and fire. I would love to go again!

What a lovely recount! Zdzos ✓
